The National Institute of Dramatic Art (NIDA) is Australia's leading centre for education and training in creative and cultural industries. For over 50 years, NIDA has been a hub for Australia's performing arts, bringing together leading artists, academics and industry professionals to nurture the next generation of creative leaders. NIDA offers fully-accredited diploma, undergraduate and graduate courses across a range of disciplines, including acting, costume-making, cultural leadership, design, directing, make-up and special effects, musical theatre, prop-making, staging, technical theatre and stage management, voice and writing. These courses are based on NIDA's world-renowned conservatoire and practice-based approach, ensuring students are industry-ready when graduating.
