Digital Media

The University of Newcastle is committed to the highest possible standards in teaching, learning and research. Visual Communication Design, Natural History Illustration and Digital Media degrees are all offered by the School of Design, Communication and Information Technology at the University of Newcastle. Our resources include state-of-the-art studios, digital laboratories and specialist teaching spaces, which all reflect current industry standards. Our degrees have a reputation for developing creative, professional designers, illustrators and digital media professionals with the attitudes, skills and knowledge necessary for international and domestic practice. All our students have the advantage of being taught by academics who are also practitioners in the design, illustration and advertising industries, allowing them to gain first-hand knowledge of career options and employer expectations.
