Industrial Design

UON's School of Architecture and Built Environment has a distinctive approach to architectural and industrial design education. We promote a comprehensive understanding of design and architecture as the synthesis of the conceptual, the technological and the social. Our's school's focus on the design studio, alongside our strong connections to practice, prepares students for successful professional careers. We also help our graduates realise their potential as agents for social change. And as a city that is transforming into a knowledge and creative innovation centre, Newcastle provides a unique environment in which students can apply their learning through live projects.

ARCHITECTURE
Industrial Design

Our students are taught by leading practitioners, including five AIA Gold-Medal winning architects. They have access to award-winning studios 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Our workshops feature the latest prototyping technologies including 3D printers, a 10-tool CNC router, a fully automated vacuum former and a large format laser cutter.
